Continuous
School Improvement Plan
2017 - 2018

Board Meeting – October 19, 2017

DIRECTIONS

The process for developing your Continuous School Improvement Plan is outlined below. Decide where you need to put your focus in order to reach your specific learning improvement goals. Feel free to attach as appendices school-specific surveys, evaluations, assessments, self-study documents, or other information that will be descriptive and supportive of your plan.

PART 1: DISTRICT STRATEGIC PLAN SUMMARY - STRATEGIC GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Establish priority goals for improvement based on the district strategic plan. Establish building-level objectives to meet major goal expectations.

PART 2: DATA ANALYSIS

Collect and analyze critical information.

PART 3: AREAS OF STRENGTH AND IMPROVEMENT

Determine needs and strengths.

PART 4: ACTION PLANS

Design action plans complete with responsibility designation, timelines, and indicators of success.

PART 5: NUTRITION AND PHYSICAL FITNESS POLICY 6700

Each school will report their educational plan biennially to the Board.

PART 6: CHARACTERISTICS OF HIGH PERFORMING SCHOOLS

PART 7: STUDENT TUTORIAL/ENRICHMENT STRATEGIES SUMMARY

Briefly summarize your school's strategy for student remediation. Specific strategies, numbers of students, staff responsible, and timeline for implementation and other related details should be found in the action plans. Student remediation strategies are coherent, and action steps demonstrate responsiveness to student tutorial needs. This summary should clearly describe a comprehensive approach embedded in strategies.

PART 8: SCHOOL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SUMMARY AND RESOURCE PLAN

Please identify all of your school's professional development activities. Identify the staff group(s) participating in the activity. Identify only the budget estimates that total to your school's basic staff development allocation.

PART 9: EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Summarize your Continuous School Improvement Plan. Please submit to the superintendent a preliminary revision of your draft by Monday, October 9, 2017. Presentation will be at the Thursday, October 19, 2017 Board meeting. A mid-year review is due for presentation at the February 22, 2018 Board meeting. Information for a Final report by the Assistant Superintendent is due for presentation at the June 21, 2018 Board meeting.

PART 10: SIGN-OFF SHEET

An original sign-off sheet that includes the names, positions, and signature of your site team must accompany the final plan on October 19, 2017.

Needs Assessments Implications:

RTI continues to meet the needs of many of our students requiring reading intervention. Third and grade showed continued improvements in ELA, and with very intentional work, 4th grade made huge gains in ELA (21%-45.6%), and met the state spot on in math (29%-54.3%). Grades 6 hovers just under the state average in math, though took a 30% increase in ELA, with 70.8% of students at standard. Math tutoring was implemented for level two students in grades 4th-6th, with mixed results on SBA. However, MAP score increases were 13 points in 4th grade, 15.4 in 5th grade, and 14.5 in 6th grade, far exceeding the expected 10 point growth in the course of a year. This is reassuring that the targeted math intervention did prove very useful in terms of student growth, despite students remaining at level 2.

Math support has continued, with yet another para added this year, allowing two positions held to support math in all classrooms, though primarily grades 3-6. After school tutoring begins twice a week for grades 4-6 by certificated teachers for 60 minutes each day. 3rd through 6th grade teachers continue to determine the best use of SBA Interim Assessment Blocks to enhance teaching and track student learning. The CSIP vertical teams will be engaged in professional book studies on topics pertaining to their team (The Writing Thief, 5 Practices for Orchestrating Mathematical Discussions, and The Growth Mindset Coach).

Needs Assessments Implications:

Great strengths in ELA in 3rd female and 6th male. Examine curriculum and instructional practices in these grade levels to share strategies with the other grade in the lower gender subgroup. As mentioned above, ELA continues to be an area of strength due to highly effective RTI as evidenced by the gap in ELA and math data in grades 3 and 5. The restructuring of 6th grade classroom is in year two, intended to assist with the discrepancy between female and all other subgroups in ELA, as well as special education in math (teachers specializing in two subject areas rather than four, with push in special education services whenever possible rather than pull out). The addition of after school math tutoring for 10 students in grades 4-6, as well as 4.5 hour and 6 hour math paras for grades 3-6 during the day. Special Education services are again aligned entirely this year with the RTI schedule so students are not missing core instruction to receive specially designed instruction. This works seamlessly in ELA, but is more complicated in math.

PART 3: Area of Strength and Improvement

AREAS OF STRENGTH AND IMPROVEMENT

Directions: Remember how important it is to review past trends or changes over time. In reference to the MSP, analyze changes between Levels 1-4. Consider students who are not meeting standard; students who are at but not above standard; and students who are exceeding standard and determine which group of students needs what type of assistance. Based on individual subtest data or other data you have collected, determine the specific areas of strength and areas for improvement for your students.

PART 8: SCHOOL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SUMMARY AND RESOURCE PLAN

SCHOOL PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SUMMARY AND RESOURCE PLAN

Directions: Please identify all of your school’s professional development activities. Identify the staff group(s) participating in the activity. Identify only the budget estimates that total to your school’s basic staff development allocation.

Brief paragraph explaining your Professional Development Summary and Resource Plan.
Through generous High Poverty LAP allocations this year, our CSIP leadership team has agreed that this is the year for intentional professional development around Project Based Learning (PBL). All PD decision making runs through our individual CSIP teams as is the case for all decision making (driven by the 60 day plans of each team, completed two times throughout the year). On October 6th the Jefferson teaching staff had their first of the three day PBL workshop in which they aligned all content standards, and began to explore ideas for effective, standards-rich projects for later in the year. Within the framework of PBL, professional development will revolve around ELA, math, and strengthening the culture and climate, all which lead to closing the achievement gap. Writing became an intentional focus last year, and continues this year with Step Up to Writing, Lucy Calkins, and David Matteson trainings for all classroom & special education teachers, as well as our core RTI and special education paraeducators. Math will focus on the Eureka Pilot, with the hope for some staff to attend regional or national math conferences to enhance their practice. LAP funds allowed us to keep IXL for an additional year. Culture & climate team is focusing on parent involvement, attendance, and student connectedness. Similar to last year, generic PBIS training is no longer the greatest need, but rather conferences with a wide range of course offerings so we can attend workshops that could specifically apply to our Jefferson community.

PART 9: EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Executive Summary

Directions: Briefly summarize your Continuous School Improvement Plan (CSIP). Identify the key components of the instructional program of the school.

Jefferson...a community where all students, staff and families are successful, valued and connected by the joy of learning! Jefferson is in year two of our new approach to our Continuous School Improvement goals, having restructured all vertical teams in 2016-2017 to meet one specific goal area, all leading to closing the gap. Each certificated staff member is on a team focusing on math, ELA, or culture & climate. There were tweaks to make after our first year of this approach, and this year teams have chosen professional development books to study, are planning family evening events, and will collect and analyze all data to determine student growth.

Culture & Climate Focus: In our fourth year, our PBIS implementation team is now in year two as a Culture & Climate team, focusing on students positive associations with school. The CCT utilized informal survey data to determine greatest areas of need last year, and focused heavily on lunchroom and hallway behavior. This year the focus is on how students treat one another. Key things that have begun this year are: monthly family projects with a STEAM theme and displayed in the rotunda; student recognition of monthly character traits; family activity cards (10 stamps equals a practical $25 gift card); rock fish path in front of school (Only One You); 3rd-6th grade novel study of Wonder, focusing on empathy, disability awareness, and the uniqueness of individuals. This will culminate with a screening on November 10th at Deer Park Cinema. This year we are offering extracurricular clubs in dance, year-book, sports, and robotics. Over 60 4th-6th grade students are involved in one or more of these clubs.

Mathematical Focus: Math remains the primary content focus for our fifth year, confirmed by both SBA and MAP data in grades 3rd-6th. Teachers recognize that this is the final year of enVisions, and are supplementing accordingly to fill in the curriculum gaps. Last year we were able to add a 4.5 hour math para, and this year HP LAP funds have allowed us to hire another 6 hour para that will focus primarily on math as well. After school tutoring for “bubble” students continues in year two. Our math vertical team determined that data collection in K-2nd will happen around math fact fluency, as that is foundational for continued growth in mathematics over time. 3rd-6th will be tracked through three times per year MAP administration, and all grades will analyze topic and benchmark assessments within enVision.

ELA Focus: The ELA vertical team has determined that writing fluency needs to be a school wide focus for a second year in a row, particularly given the extensive trainings offered last year and this fall. RTI continues as grades K-5 for 30 minutes per day, with LAP funds allowing an additional para hour to support these efforts. This means three paras and one LST for all RTI slots, which are by individual class in K & 1st, by grade level 2nd-5th. 6th has opted for no RTI time within the school day, as they are rotating students among both teachers. After school tutoring is offered daily for 3rd grade students needing intervention.
