Monthly Activities/Goals

January 18th is Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday. This is a great time to learn more about Martin Luther King Jr. and the civil rights movement. Brainpop has a video on Martin Luther King Jr. There are many books at the public library available for checkout. Your child will have the opportunity to participate in the PASD Race Equality Essay Contest this month. It would be helpful for the children to have some prior knowledge of Martin Luther King Jr. and his work before writing their essays.

I hope you have a wonderful month!
